

Navigating the Website

The navigation of the website is broken up into two sections:

- The main navigation bar near the top of each page.

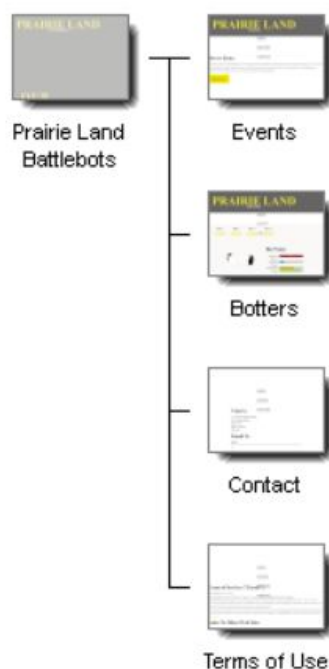

- The footer near the bottom of each page.

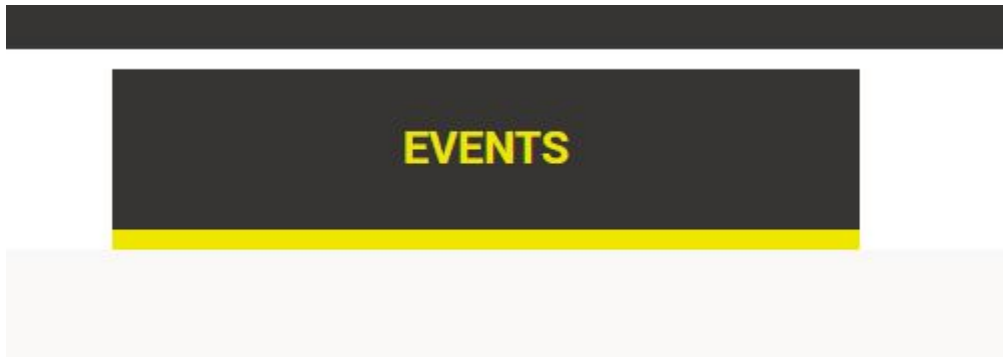

The Main Navigation Bar

The Main Navigation bar changes from page-to-page based off the current page the user is visiting, this is because the current page is excluded from the navigation bar.

Below is a site map:

To visit a specific page click on the link:

The Footer

The footer is a static element that has links Terms of Use, related websites and update information. To visit a site, click on the related link.

